had seven left on the sacks, the hits necessary not being forthcoming. Richard put out his ungloved hand in the first inning and clung to a terrific line from the bat of Beckett. This started a lively competition for honors in spectacular plays. Forsyth captured two by balls after long and hard runs. Not to be outdone, Drury, by a backhanded stab, snatched up a grounder over third and caught his man at first. Two fast fielding plays were pulled off by the Carrolls. Taylor, in center field, pulled down a long fly on which Dyer expected at least two.

Atlantics Beat Arlingtons.
The Atlantics defeated the Arlingtons by the score of 8 to 5 before a crowd of about 2,000. The Arlingtons could get but six scattered hits off Capt. Hunter, while the Atlantics made thirteen, three of these being home runs, Kicker getting two and J. Subb one. Carick's work at short was of the finest type. Hartung scored a home run for the Arlingtons. Time of game, 1 hour and 5 minutes.

Pitcher Chesbro Rounding to Form.
John D. Chesbro, the famous pitcher of the New York Americans, who has been in poor condition this season and was sent home from Chicago to New York last week, arrived in North Adams, Mass., Saturday night for a brief visit to his mother, where he will remain for the remainder of the week. He will rejoin his team in Philadelphia.

Chesbro expressed himself forcibly regarding the stories that attribute his condition to his use of the "spit" ball. "Let all the other pitchers believe that if they want to," said Chesbro, "I'm satisfied. But it isn't true that the 'spit' ball has done me up or anything to do with my poor condition."

Happy Gay says his work was bad as a result of a sore throat. He was caught in his pitching arm on the opening day in New York. In that game he was compelled to continue in the game in a cold rain. Chesbro says his arm and shoulder are now in excellent condition, and that all he wants is a few days' rest to round out in his best shape to go at the "spit" ball once more. He declares he will ask no odds of any one when he goes in the box next week.

Turf and Track Notes.
After the running of the amateur cup, at Belmont Park yesterday Walter Shiel and Fred Johnson indulged in some good-natured chaffing in the paddock which may result in a race between the two. Shiel and Lipton at Saratoga, with their owners in the saddle.

Mr. Clinch came all the way from St. Louis to Belmont Park yesterday to see the amateur cup. He did not see the best of luck at the start, but succeeded in getting as much out of the plate as he has any of the professional jockeys this year.

Jack Martin, who has been riding in the south and west most all year, has returned to the east, and yesterday had his first mount at Belmont Park this year. M. L. Hayman's Miss Point, he landed the filly in second place. Martin will ride as a free lance for the present.

The gentleman rider who piloted Only II to victory in the amateur cup was Mr. Edward Ewart, second counsel to the British embassy and one of the best amateur horsemen in Great Britain. He rode the gelding like a veteran professional and received an ovation when he approached the wire. He was so good that the mount on Queen Belle, representing the Cheltenham stable in this race, had an excuse that he was not fit to ride.

The mare took the bit in her teeth, and as she got out of the paddock and ran away four miles before her rider could get her under control.

H. P. Whitney's two-year-old colt Pegram, by Hamburg—Peg Woffington, a half brother to David Garrard, was scratched from the last race at Belmont Park early yesterday and subsequently worked five furlongs before being ridden in 59.5. Hildebrand, in the Whitney stable, had the mount, and the colt, who is a typical Hamburg, got a fine public "prep" for the Eclipse stakes, to be run tomorrow. The Belmont stakes, also a race tomorrow, will be worth this year about $20,000 to the winner. The probable starters being Blandy, Tanya, Glorifier, Wild Mint, Von Tramp, Migraine, Hot Shot, Prince, Hamburg, Jonquil and Sparkling Star.

David Johnson and David Gideon won handsomely over the amateurs, and Oxford, respectively, at Belmont Park yesterday. Johnson placed $2,500 on Rose-O'Connor, who carried her solid support to the first race. His play was followed by many other speculators, including the bookmakers who make a practice of betting extensively on all good things. Gideon and Lewisohn did not send their Oxford commissions to the ring until the odds had gone up to 7 to 2 at which point there was a plunge that fairly swamped the layers. Joe Yeager had been bet on Jones to win, and he was hammered down to evens, while Walter Sheffield and his clubhouse friends backed Only II off the boards. The ring lost on the day, and the winners being solidly supported. M. O'Connor, who rode Decimo in the Steeplechase handicap yesterday at Belmont Park, had an extremely narrow escape from what must have been almost instant death when his mount went down with him in a jump in the backstretch. Gold Van was directly behind him, and when he fell it appeared from the grandstand as though he would land full upon him. He popped over him as handily, however, as though he were taking an in-and-out, and never touched him. O'Connor was badly enough hurt as he was, and was taken to the Mineola Hospital in an unconscious condition. He is a California rider, and his fall yesterday was the first one he has had in the east.

BELMONT PARK RACES.
Oxford Captured Van Cortlandt Handicap by Half a Length.
Superb weather and the success of four favorites and two second choices made the outing for 10,000 racegoers at Belmont Park yesterday most enjoyable. The sport was free from anything of a distressing nature, and in every instance the winners were greeted with enthusiasm that showed beyond peradventure that, no matter what attacks may be made on the turf in future, the popularity of the sport will not be killed.

From a racing standpoint the Van Cortlandt handicap, seven furlongs, was the feature of the day. Oxford, who opened favorite at 2 to 1, went back to 7 to 2, while the other favorites were all sent to the latter to the post the choice at 11 to 5. But Oxford, who gave scale weight to everything in the race and incidentally two pounds to Sparkling Star, was returned the winner by half a length. Lyne waited with the Parady colt until Sparkling Star and O'Connor were well ahead, had begun to tire from making the pace, when he cut loose, and Oxford took the race under a drive in 1:22.4, with Cairngorm beating the favorite by a head.

From a dramatic point of view, the race for the Amateur cup, in which gentlemen riders had the mounts on inferior selling-platers at a mile, was inclined to provoke mirth, excepting the fact that W. M. Scheffels' Only II, the favorite, with Mr. Ewart in the saddle, won in a canter by a city block. Mr. Ewart knew enough to hug the rail as he swung into the stretch, while the other horses bore out and lost ground. R. M. Taylor's Arrahmore, second choice, rolled home in the place, eight lengths in front of P. M. Kelley's The Huguenot, 12 to 1, who was ridden by Mr. Kerr of this city. F. Ambrose, who rode the favorite, was free after showing the way to the end of the far turn. Some of the other riders were hanging on for dear life at the end, with several using their whips in such a manner as to provoke shouts of laughter from the unsympathetic populace. The mile was run in 1:44.

Johnson's Roseben, with 140 pounds up, was a hot favorite in the highweight handicap, seven furlongs, which opened the sport. O'Neill gave him a splendid ride and the big sprinter won rather easily by two lengths in 1:28.5. It was a close fit for the place, Hildebrand keeping Neptuneus, second choice, going long enough to beat Decima, 3 to 1, a head for the honor.

R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Jessamine, even money favorite, after a sharp duel with P. S. P. Randolph's Just, 13 to 5, drew away at the furlong pole and won the second race, two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs, rather easily. Just had a mortgage on the place, with Andrew Miller's Cambridge, 7 to 1, third. The time was 0:54.

J. W. Colt's Sandhurst, 13 to 1 favorite, took the steeplechase from Gold Van, 2 to 1, second choice, in a gallop. Sandhurst assumed the leadership, after Rubie and Decimo had fallen while making the running, and though Gold Van made up some ground in the last mile, the favorite had plenty left when he passed the judges, three lengths to the good. Imperialist, 100 to 1, was a very tired third. The time was 3:50.

BOSTON HORSE SHOW.
Annual Affair Held Out of Doors With Great Success.
BOSTON, Mass., May 23.—The annual Boston horse show was transferred from indoors to the field today when a three days' exhibition was inaugurated on the grounds of the Country Club in Brookline.

The managers of the exhibition were confident of a successful show on account of the large number of entries as well as the variety of horses booked for the various classes. In addition to the ordinary ribbons, a list of special prizes had been offered by hunt clubs and well-known horsemen. Eugene V. R. Thayer is chairman of the show committee and the judges include Charles D. Lowell, Thomas A. Maitland and Francis M. Ware of New York, Samuel G. Riddle of Philadelphia, Harry W. Smith of Worcester and James K. Maddux of Warrenton, Va.

Base Ball Notes.
Here's hoping Jack Townsend lead the Nationals to victory today. Incidentally do not lose sight of the fact that the Chicago have been playing tip-top ball and are a permanent factor in the championship race.

Bill Goughlin's transfer to Detroit has done him a world of good. He is now leading the third basemen and also batting better than he ever did before.

The Nationals will have to win three out of the next six games to capture the five they are allotted to them before going west for the season.

"Rabbit" Robinson is playing a great shortstop game for Milwaukee.

In LaJole's opinion, the three men in the American league will finish better than .300 this season.

Milwaukee is hustling Columbus for the lead in the American Association.

In Louisville it is declared positively that Harry Dolan is to be turned over to the Colonels as soon as Manager Kelly is fit to play again.

Congalton, who was allowed to go to Columbus, is stinging the ball into safe territory regularly.

Boston is endeavoring to break up gambling in base ball. Inspectors are placed in the stands, and gamblers are shown the door if they are caught.

Don't be surprised to hear in a few days that the American League race is fixed so that the clubs will be close together.

A story is due soon and will probably come from Pittsburgh, where the "fixed-for-New-York-to-win" yarn was given birth last year.

Jesse Burkett was tendered one of his old-time warm receptions by the crowd in the left field bleachers. The ex-Brown played one of his star games yesterday, accepting everything which came his way.

Wallace threw Jesse out three times, and the last time he was left at his base.—St. Louis Republic.

With Glad Hill, Wallace lame, Howell laid with a sore arm and Gleason ailing, McAlister's team is a serious way at present.

With these four sterling players out of the game the Browns would not present a formidable resistance to take a matter of inches from the teams which they are defeating.

Griffith, manager of the New York American League team, is following in the footsteps of the wire. He was so good yesterday that the umpire's decision at Detroit yesterday that he was ordered off the grounds.

President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh National League club has preferred charges to President Pulliam of the National League against Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants. The manager said that offensive remarks were addressed to him by McGraw as he sat in the grand stand at the games at the Polo grounds last Saturday. President Pulliam said that he would lay the matter before the board of directors.

"Pat" Bowling, the captain-manager of St. Patrick's team of the Capital City League, has been compelled, on account of bad health, to leave the city for a couple of weeks. He will go to Mount Airy, N. C., to recuperate. His eyes have been giving him a great deal of trouble and he has been advised to rest. His brother is in charge of the Catholic Church at Mount Savage, and Pat will stay with him.

An outrageous story is being printed in the western papers concerning a row between Collins and Ferris. Any one who knows Ferris knows how absurd such a story is. Ferris is strong on arguing, but is hardly inclined to mix it up with Collins. There is not a word of truth in the story. Originally the story had the row as taking place on a Sunday. Any man who has ever seen Ferris in the ring would know that $100 for naming the day of the month he saw him. Discovering that the Sunday right story wouldn't hold water, the story was shipped out west as happening on a week day.

WOMEN GOLFERS ABROAD.
Six of the Eight American Players Create a Good Impression.
A special telegram from Cromer, England, to the New York Herald, says: In spite of a strong wind which blew across the Channel yesterday and made straight driving very difficult, the women golf practice was indulged in by six of the eight Americans entered for the women's golf championship. Less troubled than anybody was the present American champion, Miss Georgianna Bishop. On two or three occasions she found bunkers, but never once failed to play out in clever style.

Although the wind might have spoiled her tee shots and thus undid good work with her driver, her mashie came promptly to the rescue. There was in the opinion of the English spectators no doubt that Miss Bishop's part to clip her drive, thereby giving her action a little that cricket stroke which just prevents complete follow through. This, however, did not seem to affect her golf through the green, and her putting was dead. There was no hesitation—she took the line at a glance, promptly brought her putter into play, and the ball rolled to the bottom of the hole.

Miss Bishop had as partner Miss Mollie B. Adams, who, like Miss Bishop, was bunkered at the sixteenth. Her ball was under the face of the hazard and almost unplayable, but she pluckily plied her mashie and with such effect that the ball bounced back. Although losing little in distance, she got better than Miss Adams' style of putting was likened to the methods of Marshall Hall, K. C., in that department of the game holding her right hand in the center of the shaft standing immediately behind her club.

Miss Ethel Burnett, Miss F. C. Griscom, former American champion, and Miss Lockwood and Mrs. Samuel Bettie were the other American players.

The Misses Margaret and Harriet Curtis are due to arrive at Cromer today with Miss Lottie Dod. They have been staying with the latter for a week, and during that period the famous former lawn tennis champion has given them several very good games.

From an English point of view as regards style Miss Griscom and Miss Lockwood both seemed slightly to overdo matters in their endeavors to get a nice, easy swing.

Miss Burnett seems to have the best follow through, though perhaps a trifle exaggerated, especially with her iron clubs. One good point, however, characterized the Americans. They keep their clubs free from the ground, especially in iron play. There is, in fact, no tendency to miss the club, and they are graceful without, Miss Bettie being particularly so.

Considering that until last Thursday the players had scarcely handled a club since last October, they soon dropped to the level of the professionals in their giving an exhibition of real good golf in the championship.

RECORD GOLF ENTRIES.
Big List of Players to Compete for Metropolitan Championship.
Eighty-two entries have been listed for the qualifying round of the Metropolitan Golf Association individual championship, to begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at Fox Hills Golf Club. This is the greatest number that has ever been booked for the tournament, and the four sixteens are sure to fill, yet it is a slim array in comparison with the 150 entries for the Country Club of Brookline, Mass., open tournament of last week. For some reason the M. G. A. has never held an open tournament.

Each pattern has 2½ yards of 40-inch lawn. And instead of the usual embroidery band for front and cuffs these have fine Val. laces. In very dainty patterns.

There are several patterns. Some are in the regular Val. weave, others in the round mesh weave. One style combines with open work embroidery a matched pattern of Val. lace.

If you don't get here early you are liable to miss these. We know you'll like the innovation. Perhaps you'll want to copy it in a hand-made waist of your own.—Bargain Tables, first floor.

WOULD EXPEL CADDIES.
Montclair Priest Says Boys Must First Attend Religious Services on Sunday.
NEW YORK, May 23.—In a sermon Sunday the Rev. Joseph F. Mandl, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Montclair, N. J., took a decided stand against the young boys of his parish acting as caddies at the links of the Montclair and Glen Ridge golf clubs on Sunday mornings. He said a minister had recently called attention to many stores open on Sunday in Montclair, but declared that a very large number of persons in better circumstances were violating the Sabbath in playing golf all day.

"I would be the last one to interfere with any entertainment on Sunday afternoon," said the priest, "but I do not approve of these parents allowing their boys to go over the mountain without even having them attend a church service. It has got to stop, and if the boys go away on Sunday without having first attended mass they will be dismissed from the parochial school."

Won His First Game.
LONDON, May 23.—George S. Lyon, the former Canadian champion, won his first game today in the amateur golf championship now in progress at Prestwick, Scotland, defeating E. M. Smith by 2 up and 1 to play. Lyon and Smith are competing against the aggregate record score of 148. The competition will occupy five days.

LEDBRIT TENNIS TOURNAMENT.
Large Crowd on Hand to Witness Opening Games.
A large crowd gathered yesterday afternoon to witness the opening games of the Le Droit tennis handicap tournament, held on the club grounds, 34 street northwest between 8 and T. In all of the matches pulled off the men with the greatest handicaps lost, though invariably putting up hard battles. Messrs. A. Leech, Wells, Merrill and Osgood, winners in their respective matches, demonstrated the value of practice, and secured for themselves higher handicapped opponents. Perhaps the hardest fought game of the evening was that between Messrs. Brush and Claudy, playing without handicap. The strokes were at all times clean and spectacular, the accuracy and strength of the back line and net play calling forth great applause.

At no time was the result sure for either team. Brush winning first and last sets only after a struggle, Claudy taking the middle set. Both men demonstrated ability equal to the best the city can produce, and considerable interest was taken in the result of the final matches of the tournament. Results of the five matches in singles played: A. Leech beat Hoge, 6-4, 6-3; Brush beat Claudy, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4; Wells beat Heath, 6-1, 6-0; Merrill beat Perham, 6-0, 6-1; Osgood beat Dr. Coby, 8-6, 6-1. The tournament will continue through the noon, matches called for tonight being Chauncey vs. Leech, Proctor vs. A. Leech, Brush vs. Wells and Merrill vs. winner of Chauncey vs. Leech match. Doubles will be called as soon as finals in singles are played.

ATELL BESTS NELSON.
Californian Outpointed Battling Boy in Six Rounds.
Abe Attell, the crack California featherweight, who aspires to championship honors in this division, to use a sporting term, made a "sucker out of Battling Nelson, the fighting Dane," at the National Athletic Club, Philadelphia, last night in a six-round bout. The mill was the limit, and in nearly every round Attell had the Dan on points. He landed three blows to the Dane's one, and if there had been a decision Attell would be entitled to it by a big margin.

Nelson was fully ten pounds heavier than his opponent, and the fact alone enabled him to finally tie Attell in the sixth round. The Californian had Nelson bleeding from ear, mouth and nose, and cut his face. In the second round Nelson was a trifle groggy, and the bell was a welcome boon to him. This was Nelson's first appearance in the east. The attendance was not up to expectations.

The men fought under straight Marquis of Queensberry rules. Attell started off by hooking two lefts to the face, and Nelson swung back with a right. Attell then put six straight lefts to the face and Nelson landed a right to the heart. Attell brought the blood from Nelson's ear with a right, and then jabbed three straight rights to the face.

Attell was active in the second. He hooked a left to the ear and swung a right to the chest. Attell kept the Dan on points, and in the third round he landed two rights to the jaw and then jabbed the left to the nose. Nelson got two rights on the kidneys and hooked the right to the ear. Attell hooked five lefts to the face without a return. Nothing daunted, Attell brought more blood from Nelson's nose with a right. He exchanged rights to the body and Attell staggered Nelson with a right swing on the ear. Attell was the aggressor in the third and fourth rounds. He landed two rights on the head and Nelson hooked two lefts to the jaw. Attell swung heavy rights and lefts to the body and Nelson hooked a left to the chin.

Attell opened the sixth with the left. He swung his hand six times, connecting each time. He then jabbed three lefts with a turn. Nelson hooked hard rights and lefts to the jaw, and then put two rights under the heart.

Sighted the Sunbeam.
NEW YORK, May 23.—Lord Brassey's yacht Sunbeam, a contestant in the trans-Atlantic cup race, was sighted yesterday by the steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm, bound for this port, 817 miles from Sandy Hook. The following dispatch to that effect has been received by the Associated Press: "S.S. Kronprinz Wilhelm, via Marconi wireless station at Siasconnet, Mass., May

Most of the styles are in all-white, but there are a few with black or colored embroidery. The time for having plenty of wash neckwear is here—and the sale at savings at which to supply wants.

On sale tomorrow for first time
Lace-trimmed waist patterns, 69c.
They are entirely new. And decidedly novel. The importer was late in deliveries and had to make some concessions to all who had given advance orders. We got all he had after filling orders at a sacrifice. So we ask only a little more than half the usual price.

Each pattern has 2½ yards of 40-inch lawn. And instead of the usual embroidery band for front and cuffs these have fine Val. laces. In very dainty patterns.

Cheney foulards, 39c.
These are the Printed Satin Foulard that made Cheney Bros. famous the world over. If we advertised them in midwinter at this price we'd have the store crowded. There ought not to be a yard left tomorrow night.

The styles are the very best, including the popular size polka dots. The range of colors is also good.

$1.25 Colored Taffetas, 49c.
Always a favorite—and used now extensively making silk skirts for wear with lingerie waists. This reduction is because some colors are missing. Those we have are apple, deep pink, Nile, turquoise, sapphire and amethyst green.

It is in 21 inches wide. Figure out how little a pleated skirt will cost if it's made of this silk. Only 49c. a yard—while this lot lasts.

69c. Philos Suiting, 59c.
There was really no reason why this suiting should sell for less than regular, because it is considered a big value at 69c. a yard. This quality is in white, cream, champagne, tan, gray, three shades of brown, goblin, reseda, three shades of navy, cardinal and black.

29 inches wide. Cannot say how long it will last tomorrow at, a yard, 39c.
